giving nature a home

RSPB Woodland Walk...

Knowlands Wood

Where: Knowlands Wood, near Barcombe
When: Wednesday 12 February 2014, 10am
Cost: Free

The walk will be led by Richard Black of the RSPB, and will take about 2 hours in total. We will be winding through Knowlands Wood, looking out for flocks of wintering birds. We should have woodpeckers drumming, likely the greater spotted woodpecker, and if we're lucky, we might catch a glimpse of the shy green woodpecker. Treecreepers, nuthatches and goldcrests are also frequent visitors to Knowlands Wood. In February we're likely to hear some early territorial singing from resident birds, and we might have some early song from dunnocks, robins, thrushes and tits.

Weather permitting, there will also be plenty of opportunities for taking pictures.

Please wear suitable winter clothing and footwear. Bring your cameras and binoculars if you have them. No dogs please.

At the end of the walk hot drinks and biscuits will be kindly provided by Tim Bullen, owner of The Secret Campsite, where we will also have the opportunity to hear what Tim is doing for wildlife on his patch.

Spaces are limited so please RSVP to Kelvin Cooper on 01273 763600 or e-mail kelvin.cooper@rspb.org.uk to book your free place.

Please meet at The Secret Campsite, Town Littleworth, Barcombe, East Sussex, BN8 4TD, where we will then carry on our walk to Knowlands Wood. By kind permission of Tim Bullen and Nick and Harriet Lear.

The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) is a registered charity England and Wales no 207076, Scotland no. SC03735

RSPB Woodland Walk...

Knowlands Wood

Where: Knowlands Wood, near Barcombe
When: Wednesday 12 February 2014, 10am
Cost: Free

The walk will be led by Richard Black of the RSPB, and will take about 2 hours in total. We will be winding through Knowlands Wood, looking out for flocks of wintering birds. We should have woodpeckers drumming, likely the greater spotted woodpecker, and if we're lucky, we might catch a glimpse of the shy green woodpecker. Treecreepers, nuthatches and goldcrests are also frequent visitors to Knowlands Wood. In February we're likely to hear some early territorial singing from resident birds, and we might have some early song from dunnocks, robins, thrushes and tits.

Weather permitting, there will also be plenty of opportunities for taking pictures.

Please wear suitable winter clothing and footwear. Bring your cameras and binoculars if you have them. No dogs please.

At the end of the walk hot drinks and biscuits will be kindly provided by Tim Bullen, owner of The Secret Campsite, where we will also have the opportunity to hear what Tim is doing for wildlife on his patch.

Spaces are limited so please RSVP to Kelvin Cooper on 01273 763600 or e-mail kelvin.cooper@rspb.org.uk to book your free place.

Please meet at The Secret Campsite, Town Littleworth, Barcombe, East Sussex, BN8 4TD, where we will then carry on our walk to Knowlands Wood. By kind permission of Tim Bullen and Nick and Harriet Lear.

The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) is a registered charity England and Wales no 207076, Scotland no. SC03735