Burgess Financial Services sponsors the printing of Pigeon Post

Following hard on the heels (wings?) as it does of November's edition, this month's Pigeon Post is long, as you see, on the pictorial aspect of life in our lovely village, and short on text. Please check www.fulking.net for news and diary dates in the Pigeon's 'fallow' period – there is no January edition. Misjudged witticisms about the Pidge taking his annual holiday in Antigua have previously been misconstrued as meaning editor of same was headed for the Caribbean – not a bit of it, people. The Pidge goes where he will; the human in charge sits tight. Pictorially speaking, how lucky we are to have some fab shots of the Ploughing Match, held in October and now a distant though cherished memory. Special thanks to David Ellin, Joyce Harris and Polly Nye for the hard work, and to John Hazard, Polly, Tessa Schaeffer and Nicole Walker for the pix. And yet more plaudits to those others whose names may not have been brought to our attention. A Peaceful, Prosperous and Particularly Pleasant Christmas to You All, and an equally – if not more so – enjoyable New Year and 2014. Aidan Walker, Editor

CAROL SINGING Monday 23 December s5.30pm, start 37 Clappers Lane. Tricia, 255

Front page pic credits: Thanks to Ade Caroen, 'after' Nick Bremer, as we might say. Gird your loins for a 2014 poster competition...

Talk about Stop Press... has the Pigeon ever before run a picture of something that happened the very same day??!! Whatever next? Some sort of website type thing perhaps? The Xmas Bazaar on 1 December, from word of mouth reports and cars in The Street, was a huge success.
